Tenders must be made out on the forms supplied and enclosed in the envelope furnished.

Tenderers must submit with their tenders a list stating the type, capacity, and present location (so that inspection can be made if necessary) of the equipment in their possession or at their disposal which is immediately available for the carrying-out of the work within the time-limit specified without in any way curtailing or delaying any Departmental project that may be under contract at this date. No tender will be considered which does not contain this information.

Tenderers should submit with their tenders a schedule of proposed construction operations showing estimated monthly progress for each phase of the construction work.

COURT OF APPEAL

In the Matter of Questions Referred to the Court of Appeal pursuant to the Provisions of the "Constitutional Questions Determination Act" as to whether the "Milk Industry Act," Chapter 28 of the Statutes of British Columbia, 1956, Is within the Competence of the Legislature of British Columbia to Enact; and as to whether Order No. 5 of the Milk Board under the Said Act, Dated the 18th Day of January, 1957, Is Ultra Vires of the Said Milk Board.

The Law Courts,
Vancouver, B.C.

To His Honour

The Lieutenant-Governor in Council,
Parliament Buildings,
Victoria, B.C.

PURSUANT to the provisions of the "Constitutional Questions Determination Act" (chapter 66, R.S.B.C. 1948) the Court of Appeal hereby certifies its opinion upon the questions stated herein as referred to it by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, with respect to the "Milk Industry Act," chapter 28 of the Statutes of British Columbia, 1956. The terms of the Order in Council read as follows:—

"To His Honour The Lieutenant-Governor in Council:

"The undersigned has the honour to report that on the 3rd day of September, 1954, Mr. Justice Clyne was appointed a Commissioner under the 'Public Inquiries Act' to inquire into matters pertaining to the production and marketing of milk in the Province of British Columbia, and made his report to Your Honour on the 17th day of October, 1955:

"And that in view of the evidence adduced before the said Commissioner as disclosed in the said report and his findings and to implement the recommendations contained in the said Report the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia enacted an Act respecting the Milk Industry (chapter 28 of the Statutes of British Columbia, 1956):

"And that it is expedient that the opinion of the Court of Appeal be obtained on the constitutional validity of the said Act and as to whether regulations under the said Act approved by Orders in Council and Board Order Number 5 dated the 18th day of January, 1957, made by the Milk Board under the said Act are within the competence of the said Milk Board.

"And to recommend that the following questions be referred to the Court of Appeal for hearing and consideration pursuant to the provisions of the 'Constitutional Questions Determination Act':—

"1. Is the 'Milk Industry Act,' chapter 28 of the Statutes of British Columbia, 1956, in its pith and substance a statute to regulate the production, distribution and marketing of milk and manufactured milk products within British Columbia and within the competence of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia to enact or is it in its pith and substance a taxing statute to impose indirect taxation and ultra vires of the said Legislative Assembly and if it is ultra vires in what particular or particulars and to what extent?

"2. Is Order No. 5 of the Milk Board under the said Act, dated the 18th day of January, 1957, intra vires of the said Milk Board and if not in what particular or particulars and to what extent?

"Dated this 5th day of February, A.D. 1957.

"R. W. BONNER,
"Attorney-General.

"Approved this 5th day of February, A.D. 1957.

"W. A. C. BENNETT,
"Presiding Member of the Executive Council."

The Court which heard the said questions referred to it was constituted as follows: The Honourable the Chief Justice of British Columbia (presiding), The Honourable Mr. Justice Sidney Smith, The Honourable Mr. Justice Davey, The Honourable Mr. Justice Coady, The Honourable Mr. Justice Sheppard.

Argument on the hearing before this Court was confined to the question of whether or not the Act and Order or either were ultra vires as designed to impose or imposing indirect taxation. The question of whether the Order may possibly infringe upon the jurisdiction of the Parliament of Canada in relation to trade and commerce was raised but was reserved for argument if that becomes necessary.

Question.—"1. Is the 'Milk Industry Act,' chapter 28 of the Statutes of British Columbia, 1956, in its pith and substance a statute to regulate the production, distribution and marketing of milk and manufactured milk products within British Columbia and within the competence of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia to enact or is it in its pith and substance a taxing statute to impose indirect taxation and ultra vires of the said Legislative Assembly and if it is ultra vires in what particular or particulars and to what extent?"

Opinion.—The opinion of the Court is that the said Act in its pith and substance is a statute to regulate the production, distribution and marketing of milk and manufactured milk products within British Columbia and within the competence of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia to enact.

Question.—"2. Is Order No. 5 of the Milk Board under the said Act, dated the 18th day of January, 1957, intra vires of the said Milk Board and if not in what particular or particulars and to what extent?"

Opinion.—The opinion of the majority of the Court (the Chief Justice, Smith, Coady and Sheppard, J.J.A.) is that subject to the question of whether the Order infringes upon the jurisdiction of the Parliament of Canada in relation to trade and commerce, the said Order of the Milk Board is intra vires of the Board. The Honourable Mr. Justice Davey, dissenting, certifies in his opinion that the said Order is completely beyond the powers of the Milk Board because it is based upon indirect taxes to be collected from vendors in the form of adjustment levies.

Attached hereto are the reasons given by the Justices of Appeal supporting their respective opinions.

This report is being forwarded you by registered mail on this 6th day of February, 1959.

By section 7 of the "Constitutional Questions Determination Act," supra, the opinion of the Court "shall be deemed a judgment of the Court of Appeal"; and section 26 of the "Court of Appeal Act" (chapter 74, R.S.B.C. 1948) requires that all judgments of the Court of Appeal shall be delivered in open Court.

Accordingly, on the 11th day of February, 1959, the Court of Appeal will announce its opinion in open Court.

Certified at the Law Courts, Vancouver, British Columbia, on the 6th day of February, 1959.

Reasons for the Opinion of the Honourable the Chief Justice

The questions referred for the opinion of the Court are:—

1. Is the "Milk Industry Act," chapter 28 of the Statutes of British Columbia, 1956, in its pith and substance a statute to regulate the production, distribution and marketing of milk and manufactured milk products within British Columbia and within the competence of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia to enact or is it in its pith and substance a taxing statute to impose indirect taxation and ultra vires of the said Legislative Assembly and if it is ultra vires in what particular or particulars and to what extent?
2. Is Order No. 5 of the Milk Board under the said Act, dated the 18th day of January, 1957, intra vires of the said Milk Board and if not in what particular or particulars and to what extent?

Counsel appearing to support the constitutional validity of the Act and the Order were: The Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, Q.C., and D. Braidwood, Esq., counsel for Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association; T. G. Norris, Esq., Q.C., and George Cummings, Esq., counsel for the Attorney-General of British Columbia; and R. K. Baker, Esq., counsel for the City of Vancouver, who did not present argument.

Counsel who attacked the Act and Order as being ultra vires were: J. G. Alley, Esq., for Hay Bros. Farms Limited; Richard P. Anderson, Esq., for W. Crawford and Hillside Farms; T. H. Lines, Esq., appearing for himself and as counsel for Genoa Bay Farms, Caramella Farms, Burdge Farms, Limited, Valley Dairy Farms, Yellow Point Dairy, and Eagle Heights Dairy, all of which carry on business on Vancouver Island.

A submission in writing attacking the validity of the Act was also filed and argument presented by Basil Gardom, Esq., on behalf of Independent Milk Producers Co-operative Association.

The objects to be accomplished by the legislation are set forth in the preamble and broadly stated are:—

To safeguard the public health.

To establish a common standard of safety and cleanliness for milk for consumption in fluid form.

To ensure a continuity of supply of safe and clean fresh fluid milk to the consumer by fixing prices to be paid to producers of all milk of a standard which qualifies for consumption in fluid form and marketed by them.

The attack on the Act was directed only to Part III thereof, which provides, inter alia, for the appointment of the Milk Board; establishes areas of production; and for the purpose of controlling and regulating the marketing of milk produced in British Columbia, delegates certain powers to the Board, including licensing; defining standards and grades in relation to quality of milk; prohibiting any person from engaging in the production, supplying, processing, distribution, or sale of milk in the Province unless licensed; fixing prices to be paid to all producers for all milk marketed by them and qualifying for the fluid market.

Argument on the hearing before this Court was confined to the question of whether or not the Act and Order or either were ultra vires as being designed to impose or imposing indirect taxation. The question of whether the Order may possibly infringe upon the jurisdiction of the Parliament of Canada in relation to trade and commerce was raised but was reserved for further argument if that becomes necessary.

In my opinion the Act in its pith and substance is a statute to regulate the production, distribution, and marketing of milk and manufactured milk products within British Columbia and is within the competence of the Legislature. It does not possess the character of a taxing statute. It does not impose a tax nor make any provision whereby a tax may be imposed; nor does it provide that monetary contributions be exacted from anyone other than by way of licence fees and other fees for services rendered by the Province or by its authorized instrumentalities. In my view the object and purpose of the Act and the provisions enacted for their accomplishment fall wholly within the jurisdiction of the Legislative Assembly. Shannon v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board (1938) A.C. 708; Reference re Farm Products Marketing Act (1957) S.C.R. 198.

In my judgment Order No. 5 is clearly within the powers vested in the Board by the Act and does not provide for the imposition of a tax either direct or indirect.

The effect of the Order is to all intents and purposes to provide for a pooling of all qualifying milk of licensed producers who wish to participate in the fluid market at a price fixed by the Board. Under the Order every such producer is entitled to receive the same price for each hundredweight of milk sold by him to a licensed vendor (distributor), and each vendor is obliged to pay such price. In the case of a vendor-producer his milk is included in the pool and he must account to the Board on the same basis as vendors, so that in the result as a producer he is entitled to and retains the price fixed by the Board and in his capacity as a vendor either pays or receives from the Board along with all other vendors an amount which will result in each of them having paid his proper proportion of the total of the fixed price payable by all vendors in respect of the quantity of milk comprised in the pool. The moneys so to be accounted for by each vendor or producer-vendor are not his moneys but are moneys of the pool. Nothing is taken from either producer or vendor or producer-vendor which belongs to him and nothing that he is entitled to is taken from him. There is no compulsion. The producer remains free to apply or not to apply for a licence which will enable him to provide milk for sale in the fluid market. If he applies for a licence he does so under the terms of the statute and the Order as a matter of agreement. See Reference re Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, at p. 215, where Rand, J., says:—

But the producer remains free to enter that trade as he pleases; if he elects to sell to the marketing agency, he does so under the terms of the statute as a matter of agreement; . . .

Furthermore, in considering another provision of the Ontario Act empowering the conduct of pools by marketing agencies which was held intra vires, Rand, J., said at p. 214:—

Co-operative disposal may take different forms: it may be that of an exclusive local marketing by an agency, either as owner or agent, by which the products are disposed of and the returns equalized, a form, I should say, within the authority of the Province; or, in the interest of convenience and economy, the producers, as contemplated by the Act here, would make their own sales with all moneys made returnable to the agency, for the recovery of which it may bring suit, and by it equalized and distributed. Since prices can be fixed by the agency, at the point of collecting them the result in both forms becomes the same, and I cannot see any jurisdictional difference between the equalization in the two cases. The exclusion of such an ordinary device of co-operative marketing from Provincial power would be a curtailment which I cannot think warranted. [The italics are mine.]

Locke, J., at p. 231 stated:—

The pools authorized by clause (1) appear to be designed to obtain the most favourable prices for the producers as a whole by selling the regulated product through the medium of a marketing agency, a procedure which, it is apparently hoped, will result in better prices being realized for the crop as a whole than would otherwise be possible. I do not consider that the decision of the Judicial Committee in Lower Mainland Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Committee v. Crystal Dairy, Limited, ((1933) A.C. 168, (1933) 1 D.L.R. 82, (1932) 3 W.W.R. 639) supports a contention that the authority to authorize the proposed pools is beyond Provincial powers. In my view, the fact that some of the producers might under such regulations receive less for their product than they would if they were at liberty to sell when the opportunity offers and that others might receive more than they would otherwise receive does not mean that a tax is imposed upon one producer for the benefit of others. The design is apparently to realize what will be over the years better prices for all producers and this, in my opinion, is within the powers given by heads 13 and 16."

And again Fauteux, J., at pp. 251 and 252:—

Under the Act here considered, there is no pooling of returns but a pooling of products aiming at more advantageous marketing and, hence, returns: each producer remaining entitled to receive out of the total returns—all necessary and proper disbursements and expenses being deducted—his share according to the amount, variety, size, grade and class of the product he pooled with the other producers. The object of the compulsory equalization and compulsory deduction is not here the same as in the Crystal Dairy and Turner's Dairy cases, supra. In its normal operation, and this under the authorities is the test, the Act in pith and substance, does not contemplate that one producer or one class of producers should contribute part of his or its returns to another producer or class of producers.

The essential elements of the plan provided by Order 5 are for all practical purposes and results the same as those of the plan provided for by the Ontario Act under consideration by the Supreme Court of Canada.

My opinion accordingly is that subject to the question of whether it infringes on the jurisdiction of the Parliament of Canada in relation to trade and commerce Order 5 is intra vires of the Milk Board.

Vancouver, B.C., February 11th, 1959.

Reasons for Judgment of the Honourable Mr. Justice Davey

The circumstances giving rise to this reference and the questions submitted to us are set out in the reasons of my brother Sidney Smith. I add only that from the report of the learned Commissioner and the preamble to the Act, it would appear that great quantities of surplus milk, which must be sold for the manufacture of dairy products at rates below the cost of production, and which gave rise to the legislation and orders in question in Lower Mainland Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Committee v. Crystal Dairy Ltd. (1933) A.C. 168; Shannon and Others v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board (1938) A.C. 708; and Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board et al. v. Turner's Dairy Ltd. et al. (1939) 56 B.C.R. 103, (1941) S.C.R. 573, continue to plague producers, and threaten to jeopardize the supply of clean and safe milk for the very large Lower Mainland market.

The present Act and Order No. 5 of the Milk Board constitute an attempt to obtain for all licensed producers a fair share of the more profitable fluid-milk market at remunerative prices, and thereby assure an adequate supply of safe clean fluid milk for consumers.

Counsel for those opposing the Act have confined their attack to Part III dealing with marketing of fluid milk. They have, at the moment, challenged only the powers conferred upon the Milk Board by section 41, subsections (h) to (q), inclusive, to fix the value and price of milk, and to control its marketing and the agencies through which it may be sold, on the ground that they authorize the Board to equalize returns to producers and thereby impose an indirect tax within the meaning of the Crystal Dairy and Turner's Dairy cases, supra.

In considering the questions submitted to us, I have assumed for the time being, as was done by the Supreme Court of Canada in the Reference re the Farm Products Marketing Act (1957) S.C.R. 198, that in the absence of internal evidence to the contrary, this Act and Order 5 deal solely with civil rights entirely within the Province and do not invade the Dominion's exclusive jurisdiction over trade and commerce generally under the B.N.A. Act. Also I have confined my attention to those subsections directly attacked by Counsel.

In so far as the substance of Part III of the Act is concerned, once it is accepted that the recommendations of the Commissioner were made and the preamble of the Act enacted in good faith, as must be done on this reference in the absence of internal evidence to the contrary, it necessarily follows that the nominal purpose described in the preamble and apparent from the contents is the real purpose of the Act, and that it is not a sham as one counsel argued. It must be taken that the Act and substance of the Act is as stated, namely, to provide an adequate supply of safe clean milk in fluid form by assuring all producers of such milk a proper share of the fluid market and reasonable prices for their product, by methods of licensing, quotas, and control of prices and marketing. It is now settled beyond argument by the Shannon case and the Reference re the Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, among others, that legislation for such purpose falls within the legislative authority of the Province.

An Act dealing with a subject within Provincial legislative authority may use machinery and methods beyond Provincial competence, and if so, the legislation will be ultra vires in whole or in part. Specifically an Act to control marketing and pricing of a commodity that is a subject of local trade—a purpose within the legislative authority of the Province—cannot exercise that control by a form of indirect taxation.

That basic distinction between the Crystal Dairy case and the Shannon case appears to be established by the following dictum of Lord Atkin in Gallagher v. Lynn (1937) A.C. 863, found in the passage from his judgment quoted with approval in the Shannon case at p. 720:—

“If, on the view of the statute as a whole, you find that the substance of the legislation is within the express powers, then it is not invalidated if incidentally it affects matters which are outside the authorized field. The legislation must not under the guise of dealing with one matter in fact encroach upon the forbidden field. Nor are you to look only at the object of the legislator. An Act may have a perfectly lawful object, e.g., to promote the health of the inhabitants, but may seek to achieve that object by invalid methods, e.g., a direct prohibition of any trade with a foreign country. In other words, you may certainly consider the clauses of an Act to see whether they are passed ‘in respect of’ the forbidden subject.”

That appears to be the basis of the answers to questions 7 and 8 in the Reference re the Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, which in all other aspects was held to be within Provincial competence.

Therefore it becomes necessary to consider whether the powers conferred upon the Board by section 41, subsections (h) to (q), to carry out the purpose of the Act include the power to impose indirect taxes. If they do, they adopt an instrument entrusted only to the Federal Parliament, and they cannot be treated in that respect as only incidentally affecting matters outside the Provincial field within the principle laid down in the first sentence of the above dictum.

Close study of each of these subsections has convinced me that none of them expressly authorize the imposition of indirect taxes or necessarily invade the Federal legislative authority, and that all the powers so conferred upon the Milk Board may be exercised in a way that falls within Provincial authority. That being so, following the Reference re the Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, I must assume that the Legislature intended them to be so exercised, and that the whole Act, on that assumption, is intra vires. Subject to the reservations with which I prefaced these reasons, I would answer the first branch of the first question affirmatively.

That brings me to the second question, namely, whether Order 5 is intra vires the Milk Board, and here again I confine myself to the submission addressed to us that it is ultra vires the Board because it attempts to equalize returns to producers or dealers or to producer-vendors, who combine the functions of both, by a process of indirect taxation within the principle of the Crystal Dairy and Turner's Dairy cases.

The scheme set up by the Order is as follows: It deals only with milk qualifying for the fluid market, whether it is sold in fluid form for human consumption or the manufacture of dairy products.

By section 15 milk sold by a producer to a vendor (so-called in the Order, but in reality a distributor) is classified on the vendor's premises into three categories: Class 1, for sale wholesale or retail in fluid form; Class 2, a vendor's surplus milk which is used for the manufacture of canned or concentrated fresh milk; and Class 3, a vendor's surplus milk which is utilized for other purposes than Classes 1 and 2.

As section 24 assumes great importance in the scheme and in the argument I reproduce it:

24. For the purposes of milk regulation contemplated by the Act:—

(a) Each producer shall market his qualifying milk in each class in the same proportion that the total sales by all vendors of qualifying milk in each class bears to the total volume of qualifying milk received by them from all producers in each area of production. For the purpose of avoiding the unnecessary cost to vendors, producers, or consumers resulting from the movement of qualifying milk pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section, and in lieu of requiring vendors to transfer to other vendors such quantity of qualifying milk in any class received by them from their producers as will ensure that each vendor shall market the same proportion of the volume of each class of qualifying milk, the producer price resulting from the computations mentioned in sections 19, 20, 22, 23, and 25 hereof is fixed as one price for qualifying milk so that each vendor will pay to each producer the same price for qualifying milk:

(b) As in complying with the order for payment of the said price some vendors may be required to pay to producers more and other vendors may be required to pay to producers less than the total value of the volume of qualifying milk received by them as computed in section 18 hereof:—

(i) On or before the fifteenth day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, every vendor shall pay to the Board the amount by which the value of milk received by him as calculated under section 18 hereof is greater than the amount which he must pay to producers in complying with sections 19, 20, 22, 23, and 25 hereof:

(ii) On or before the seventeenth day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, the Board shall pay to every vendor the amount by which the value of milk received by him as calculated under section 18 hereof is less than the amount which he must pay to producers in complying with sections 19, 20, 22, 23, and 25 hereof.

In order to avoid unnecessary movement of milk, producers are allowed to sell their milk directly to vendors of their choice; each vendor is required to pay to each producer the same minimum price fixed by the Board for all milk regardless of how it is classified on the vendor's premises, or for what purpose the vendor sells it.

That price is derived from the value of all qualifying milk in the area sold to vendors, which value is determined by the Board by formulae established under other sections of the Order by the authority of section 41 of the Act, clauses (h) to (r).

There are two principal components in this value:—

(1) An artificially high value for milk actually sold on the fluid market determined by a formula referred to by clause (h) and prescribed by clause (m), which specifies: “The said formula shall be such as to provide a reasonable premium for the production of milk for the fluid market to ensure an adequate but not an excessive supply of milk which qualifies for such market.” The Commissioner reports (p. 127), that in the absence of controls the price of fluid milk would probably drop to the neighbourhood of the manufacturing price, about $3.20 per hundredweight, which is below the cost of producing safe clean milk for the fluid market.

(2) An obviously lower value for surplus milk which must find its use in manufacturing dairy products, which by clause (i) of section 41 is to be determined by current market yields.

The minimum uniform blended price per unit to be paid by all vendors for all qualifying milk purchased from producers in any area, as required by the Act, section 41 (j), and sections 19 and 24 of the Order, is the weighted average of the value of the quantity of Class 1 actually sold for use in fluid form and the value of the quantity in Classes 2 and 3. This process is illustrated by the Commissioner at pages 140 and 141 of his Report.

At this point it is to be observed that each producer in each area gets the same minimum unit price for all qualifying milk which he sells, regardless of to whom or for what use he or his vendor may sell it, and that price depends in turn on what portion of all qualifying milk produced in an area is sold for consumption in fluid form and its arbitrary value as determined by the Board on the one hand and, on the other, the quantity of surplus milk which must be used for manufacture, and its value as so determined. Such price is the minimum price to be paid to producers. The Act permits a vendor to pay more.

It is objected that qua producers this is equalization of returns, and ultra vires the Board and the Legislature. But there is no constitutional vice in equalization as such, and it is only beyond the powers of the Provincial Legislature if it is achieved by a process of indirect taxation or other unconstitutional means, of which I see no evidence at this stage of control.

Such price fixing is, in my opinion, valid under the Shannon case.

But it is necessary to press this analysis to a consideration of the effect of the Order upon vendors. Section 24 (b) recognizes what must be obvious, namely, that the uniform blended price will fall equitably only on the vendor who sells his milk in the fluid and the manufacturing markets in the same proportions as the industry in the area as a whole. The vendor who sells more than that proportion in the fluid market will get a higher than the average price from both markets for his milk, and thus pay relatively less for his supplies than a vendor who sells less than the industry-wide average in the fluid market and proportionately more in the lower-price manufacturing market. Such a vendor will get lower than the average price for all his milk, and thus pay relatively more for his supplies. To take an extreme but unlikely case, a vendor, who by force of circumstance is obliged to sell all his milk in the manufacturing market, will get less than the uniform blended price he has to pay the producer. But it is not unlikely that there will be many vendors who have to sell so much on the lower-price manufacturing market that their margin of profit will be so reduced as to force them out of business. Such a vendor might be the Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association, a co-operative marketing agency, which by definition will be a vendor, and which, the Commissioner reports, page 27, Schedule 23, page 187, comprises 85 per cent by number of the shippers in the Vancouver area, who produce about 70 per cent of the milk by volume, but place only one-third of their total production on the high-priced fluid market, while the independents, who consist of only 15 per cent of the shippers, by number, producing 30 per cent of the milk, place 80 per cent of their production in that market. Forty-seven per cent of the total production of the Vancouver area is required for the fluid market, and 53 per cent goes to the low-price manufacturing market. The Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association, handling 70 per cent of the production in the Vancouver area, supplies only 49 per cent of the fluid market and 88 per cent of the manufacturing market; the independents, controlling only 30 per cent of the total production, supply 51 per cent of the fluid market and only 12 per cent of the manufacturing market. The above percentages are approximate, and vary somewhat from season to season and year to year.

That is the factual foundation for section 24 (b) of the Order, and out of it arises the need for the adjustment provided for by clauses (i) and (ii) of that subsection. From that it follows that the independents will provide the major share of the adjustment for the benefit principally of Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association as far as the Vancouver area is concerned. While that does not affect the principle, it does assist in understanding the effect of the Order and the nature of the scheme.

The uniform blended price payable to producers and the adjustments between vendors are determined and made in this way.

On or before the 13th day of each month, the Board determines, publicly announces, and informs each vendor the uniform blended price to be paid to each producer in the area for all qualifying milk delivered by producers during the preceding month (section 29 (b)). Each vendor is required to pay each producer by the 19th of each month the uniform blended price so determined for all milk delivered to its plant during the preceding month (section 25 (a)). In the interval between the Board fixing the price and the date for payment of the producers, each vendor is required to pay to the Board before the 15th of the month the amount by which the aggregate value of all three classes of milk received by him, as determined by the Board by formulae in the manner previously mentioned, exceeds the sum he is required to pay his producers for milk delivered during the preceding month; the Board in turn is required to pay each vendor on or before the 17th of each month the amount by which the sum each vendor is required to pay his producers for milk received during the previous month exceeds the value of the three classes of milk as so determined. The amount collected by the Board from vendors selling proportionately more in the higher-priced fluid market will equal the amount to be paid by the Board to vendors selling proportionately less in the fluid market and more in the manufacturing market. Thus, as matters stood when the Commissioner made his report, the Board will collect money from the independents selling most of their milk in the fluid market and pay it to the Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association (inter alia) which supplies most of the milk used in manufacturing.

This process is explained by the Commissioner at page 141 of his report, and may be illustrated by the following suppositious examples by Mr. Alley, of counsel for Hays Bros. Farms Ltd.

Vendor A buys: From Producer 1A 10,000 pounds of qualifying milk, which is classified under section 15 of Order 5 according to the use Vendor A makes of it, at the following values, according to formula prescribed by section 16:—

Class	Quantity	Value
Class 1—fluid market	5,000 lb. @ 5¢	$250.00
Class 2	2,500 lb. @ 4¢	100.00
Class 3	2,500 lb. @ 3.5¢	87.50
Totals	10,000 lb.	$437.50

From Producer 1B 15,000 pounds:—

Class	Quantity	Value
Class 1	7,500 lb. @ 5¢	$375.00
Class 2	5,000 lb. @ 4¢	200.00
Class 3	2,500 lb. @ 3.5¢	87.50
Totals	15,000 lb.	$662.50

Vendor B buys from Producers 1B and 2B:—

Class	Quantity	Value
Class 1	6,000 lb. @ 5¢	$300.00
Class 2	6,000 lb. @ 4¢	240.00
Class 3	13,000 lb. @ 3.5¢	455.00
Totals	25,000 lb.	$995.00

Vendor C buys from Producer 1C:—

Class	Quantity	Value
Class 1	5,000 lb. @ 5¢	$250.00
Class 2	2,500 lb. @ 4¢	100.00
Class 3	7,500 lb. @ 3.5¢	262.50
Totals	15,000 lb.	$612.50

Vendor D buys from Producer 1D 45,000 pounds and sells it all on the fluid market.

Class	Quantity	Value
Class 1	45,000 lb. @ 5¢	$2,250.00

Under section 18 of Order 5 the total quantity and value of all milk so shipped is 110,000 pounds, valued at $4,957.50, so the uniform blended price to be paid by all vendors to all producers is $4,957.50
110,000 = 4.5¢ per pound, section 19.

The following are the adjustments to be made between the vendors and the Board under section 24 (b) of Order 5:—

Vendor	Accounting Value	Blended Price Paid to Producers @ 4.5¢	Payments to Producers over or under Value
A	$1,100.00	$1,125.00	$25.00 over
B	995.00	1,125.00	130.00 "
C	612.50	675.00	62.50 "
Total overpayment to be paid by the Board			$217.50
D	$2,250.00	$2,025.00	$225.00 under
Total underpayment to be paid to the Board			$225.00

(N.B.—The difference in the overpayments and underpayments according to counsel is due to the blended price being calculated to the nearest tenth of a cent. If the calculation had been carried to the ultimate decimal, overpayments and underpayments would have balanced.)

Payment of the adjustment levy is enforced, if necessary, by process of law (section 63 of the Act). That the levy is made by a public body and is used for public purposes cannot be doubted since Lawson v. Interior Tree Fruit and Vege- table Committee of Direction (1931) S.C.R. 357, and the Crystal Dairy case, supra. Subject to consideration of the submissions of Mr. Norris, and of Senator Farris, of counsel for the Fraser Valley Milk Producers Association, the levies would seem to possess all the attributes of a tax within the Lawson, Crystal Dairy and Turner's Dairy cases.

If the levies are taxes, are they indirect? In some respects, the levies differ from those imposed by the schemes in the Crystal Dairy and Turner's Dairy cases. In this case the levies are imposed upon vendors instead of upon producers, not to equalize their returns, but to enable the Board to obtain from vendors who sell proportionately more in the higher-price fluid market money with which to compensate vendors who sell proportionately more in the lower-price manufacturing market. That compensation is for the excessive amount such vendors pay through the uniform blended price for surplus milk to be used for that purpose. The obvious purpose and result of the Order is to throw upon consumers of fluid milk the burden of the excessive uniform blended price for surplus milk which has to be used in the manufacturing market. Indeed, the Act by its preamble and substantive provisions contemplates that the consumers of fluid milk shall pay the premium producers are to receive to enable them to provide an adequate supply of safe clean milk for the fluid market, and Order 5 achieves that object through a uniform blended price and these adjustment levies. The report of the Commissioner leaves no doubt that these levies will be passed on to the consumer, see passage quoted, infra (p. 13).

Those differences are not sufficient to distinguish these levies from those involved in the Crystal Dairy and Turner's Dairy cases, or the licence fees involved in questions 7 and 8 in the Reference re the Farm Products Marketing Act. They are taxes imposed upon traders, which by their nature tend to and in fact will pass on to the consumer.

The fact that the levies are not assessed on all vendors but only on those who have in the previous month sold proportionately more in the fluid market does not make the levy any the less a tax or alter its incidence. Any vendor is subject to it if his business in the month under review makes him liable to it.

I do not overlook the fact that a vendor will not know exactly what tax, if any, he will have to pay until the month following his sales on the fluid market, and that the amount he will have to pay will vary from month to month according to the condition of the industry. But that circumstance will not prevent the tax being passed on, and the reasoning of Fauteux, J., in the Reference re the Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, at page 252, has no application to these quite different circumstances. Here the burden of the levy can be closely estimated by a trader from the vendor's business experience and his knowledge of the industry and its probable trends and the information for the current month the Board is required to give him by section 29 (a).

It only remains to examine the principal submissions advanced, unsuccessfully in my view, to meet the objection that these levies are indirect taxes.

At the outset Mr. Norris, of counsel for the Attorney-General of British Columbia, strongly relied upon the judgment of Rinfret, J., in Re the Employment and Social Insurance Act (1936) S.C.R. 427, holding that the use of Federal powers of taxation to levy contributions for the insurance fund from employers and employees did not enable the Federal Parliament to enact the measure, which, in substance, was not a taxing statute, but a scheme for employment service and unemployment insurance falling within those categories of legislation assigned exclusively to the Province. In other words, the use of machinery falling within the powers of the Federal Parliament for objects assigned to the Province will not validate a Federal excursion into a purely Provincial field. But it does not follow that a Province may use the instrument of indirect taxation to implement a purpose within its legislative authority. If the Legislature can achieve its object by means within its power, well and good, but it may not use the exclusive Federal power to levy indirect taxes to attain that end.

Next, learned counsel for the Attorney-General of British Columbia adopted as part of his argument the reasoning of the learned Commissioner at page 145 et seq. of his report. At page 148 this is said:—

The producer receives the government-fixed price for milk of Grade A quality (i.e., qualifying milk, my parenthesis) and is not concerned with its disposition by the distributor. There is no tax as between distributors, since they are merely the agencies through which the fluid premium is collected from the public on behalf of the producers, and accounts are balanced between them on the basis of whether they have overdischarged or underdischarged their liabilities to producers in carrying out the Board's pricing orders. According to the authorities, no tax element arises where the amount involved is a fee for services rendered or payment for value received. In the case of the fluid premium it has been seen that it has been earned by the farmer by continuity of supply and by the providing of facilities to produce milk of Grade A quality. In paying a price which includes the fluid premium, the consumer is receiving value by way of quality which the farmer would not be able to supply if it were not for the government-regulated price. The fluid premium is not a tax, but an element in the fixing of a price. Even if some tax element were involved, the proposed legislation is clearly distinguishable from the statutes under consideration in the Crystal and Turner cases, for in its pith and substance it relates not to the imposition of a tax, but to the regulation of a local industry for the maintenance of a safe supply of milk to the public, according to a practice which has been found to be successful in many other parts of the continent.

With deference, I am unable to accept that reasoning, and I am confirmed in my opinion by the fact that Senator Farris in his able submission expressly disavowed the argument of agency.

The fallacy in the last sentence of the passage quoted has already been stated in discussing Gallagher v. Lynn and the Employment and Social Insurance Act Reference. It is clear, however, that the learned Commissioner is correct in stating that the fluid premium is not a tax when paid by the distributor to the producer, but is an element in fixing a price. Nor is it a tax paid by the consumer of fluid milk. But the tax is the adjustment levy made on distributors selling principally in the fluid-milk market to subsidize those selling relatively more in the manufacturing market for the excessive price they are compelled to pay the producer for surplus milk used for that purpose. The price the consumer pays for fluid milk includes not only the fixed price paid the producer but the cost of the adjustment levy.

Under Order 5, it is clear that the distributors do not collect the fluid premium, as such, from the public, and what they do collect they do not collect on behalf of the producer. Each vendor or distributor is a purchaser qua the producer and completely discharges his obligation to his producer when he pays the fixed uniform blended price. The producer gets nothing more for that milk from either the distributor or the Board. When a distributor sells fluid milk to the public directly, or indirectly through others, he sells as a vendor at such price as he sees fit, which he presumably expects will be sufficient to cover his costs, including the fixed price he pays for the milk and the amount of the anticipated levy. He collects nothing more than his price from his purchaser, and in law (apart from the levy under Order 5) that price belongs to him exclusively, free of claims thereto, of any other person, producer, or Board. With the greatest respect for the learned Commissioner, I am quite unable to follow the argument that the distributors collect the fluid premium from the public on behalf of the producers. The levy takes from a distributor money that belongs to him.

The so-called accounts which the Commissioner says are balanced between distributors are nothing more than information such as is supplied to and collected by every assessor upon which to compute a tax, and the tax which is levied thereon.

Senator Farris supported the levy by the submission that it is merely machinery to adjust the rights of producers and vendors under section 24 (a) of the Order, already quoted, and to avoid the unnecessary movement of milk, by giving to each vendor what he would get if the market were divided among producers in accordance with that section by directing the pooling or controlling the movement of milk.

The submission is that each producer is required to market his milk in each class in the same proportions as all vendors in the aggregate do in the area. I pass over the difficulty inherent in the fact that producers sell only qualifying milk for which they are paid by vendors, and that it is the vendors who classify the milk on their premises according to the purpose for which they sell it. For the purpose of the adjustment levy this requirement seems to be only a fiction, which ignores the real transaction, and gives through artificiality a colour of legality to the levy, which it does not possess. However, I will assume that the Board under the regulations as drawn can so order the movement of milk as to give effect to clause 24; also that the end financial result of such movement, or pooling if that should be resorted to, although at the moment it is not provided for in the Order, would be the same as that produced by the levy. That result would be, not equalization between producers, for that is obtained through the fixed uniform blended equalized price paid by each vendor to each producer for all qualifying milk, but to ensure that each vendor would sell his milk in each class, that is in the fluid or the manufacturing market, in the same proportions as the classes enter into the blended price, so that each vendor would bear his fair and proper share of the premium incorporated in the blended price.

I assume that since the decision in the Reference re the Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, it is within the power of the Province and the Board to so order the movement or pooling of milk. But the fact that a desired result may be obtained by cumbersome methods within the power of the Province will not permit the Province to use means, such as indirect taxation, exclusively within the power of the Federal Parliament, to obtain the same end result more conveniently, as I have already endeavoured to show.

In my opinion, the adjustments which Order 5 empowers the Board to levy upon vendors are indirect taxes and ultra vires the Province and the Board. Since they constitute an essential part of the scheme of price fixing contained in the Order, they cannot be severed and the whole Order must fall with them.

Accordingly I would answer the second question: Order 5 is completely beyond the powers of the Milk Board, because it is based upon indirect taxes to be collected from vendors in the form of adjustment levies.

H. W. DAVEY, J.A.

Vancouver, B.C., February 11th, 1959.

Reasons for Judgment of the Honourable Mr. Justice Sheppard

The constitutional validity of the "Milk Industry Act," B.C. 1956, chapter 28, and of Order 5 with amendments, enacted by the Milk Board pursuant to that Statute, has been referred by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council under the "Constitutional Questions Determination Act," R.S.B.C. 1948, chapter 66, for the opinion of this Court.

The purpose of the Legislature in enacting the "Milk Industry Act" as declared in the preamble was to assure to consumers within the Province a continuity of supply of clean safe milk suitable for human consumption in fluid form, and to ensure a continuous supply by providing a market for qualifying milk, at a price fixed at a premium so compensating to the producers as to ensure that continuous supply. To carry out that purpose, the Statute established a Milk Board with jurisdiction over certain "areas of production" within the Province, namely, the Lower Mainland, Vancouver Island, and other areas later added by Order in Council (section 40), with general power to the Board "for the purposes of controlling and regulating under this Act the marketing of milk produced in British Columbia," to make Orders in relation to the said marketing and also to make Orders for the classifying of those engaged in the production, supplying, processing, distribution, or sale of milk within the Province, to license such, to provide standards and grades in relation for the quality of any such milk, to prohibit marketing of milk not meeting with those standards, to fix the values at which the vendors should account to the producers for the milk sold on the fluid market and for the milk used in manufacturing, to fix the price to be paid to the producers, and to apportion the fluid market amongst the producers (section 41).

General Order 5, enacted by the Milk Board, states that it applies "to milk qualifying for the fluid market, produced or marketed or offered for market" in an area of production (Order, section 1) that is within the Province (Statute, section 40), and provides for the licensing of vendors and producers (section 1):—

For qualifying milk, being divided into three classes, namely: Class 1—that used by a vendor for sale in fresh fluid form in any part of the Province; Class 2—that sold in the Province to a vendor, surplus to his fluid requirements and "utilized in the Province" for manufacture of certain milk; Class 3—that sold in the Province to a vendor, surplus to his fluid requirements and utilized in the Province for other purposes (section 15):

For the minimum values at which the vendors shall account to producers (sections 16 to 18);

For the computation of producer's price (sections 19 and 22); and

For the time and method of payment.

The object of the Statute is to provide a continuity of supply of safe, clean, fresh milk in fluid form to the consuming public of British Columbia. Such an object has been dealt with by Lord Atkin in Shannon v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board (1938) A.C. 708 at page 719 as follows:—

In this respect their Lordships desire to quote a passage from the opinion of Lord Atkin in the House of Lords in Gallagher v. Lynn ((1937) A.C. 863 at 869), which was cited by Martin, C.J., and which it will be convenient to bring into the line of authority on constitutional cases arising in the Dominions: "My Lords, the short answer to this is that this Milk Act is not a law 'in respect of' trade; but is a law for the peace, order and good government of Northern Ireland 'in respect of' precautions taken to secure the health of the inhabitants of Northern Ireland by protecting them from the dangers of an unregulated supply of milk. These questions affecting limitation on the legislative powers of subordinate parliaments or the distribution of powers between parliaments in a federal system are now familiar, and I do not propose to cite the whole range of authority which has largely arisen in discussion of the powers of Canadian Parliaments. It is well established that you are to look at the 'true nature and character of the legislation': Russell v. The Queen, 7 A.C. 829, 839 . . .

'Nor are you to look only at the object of the legislator. An act may have a perfectly lawful object, e.g., to promote the health of the inhabitants, but may seek to achieve that object by invalid methods, e.g., a direct prohibition of any trade with a foreign country.' . . . The true nature and character of the Act, its pith and substance, is that it is an Act to protect the health of the inhabitants of Northern Ireland; and in those circumstances, though it may incidentally affect trade with County Donegal, it is not passed 'in respect of' trade, and is therefore not subject to attack on that ground."

The object of the Statute would appear to be within the legislative competence of the Province and within the B.N.A. Act, section 92 (13), property and civil rights in the Province, or section 92 (16), generally all matters of a merely local or private nature within the Province, Shannon v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board, supra. Since the object is lawful that is within the competence of the Province, the question next arises whether that lawful object has been carried out "by invalid methods." That is the line of inquiry followed by Lord Atkin in Gallagher v. Lynn, (1937) A.C. 863, and approved in Shannon v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board, supra.

The general power of controlling and regulating the marketing of milk conferred by section 41 of the Statute in question is restricted to "milk produced in British Columbia" and limited by the words "so far as the legislative authority of the Province extends." The particular powers conferred by section 41 are in respect of milk produced or offered for sale "within the Province," section 41 (a) and (d); the remaining particular powers of section 41 relating to milk appear to be ancillary to those general or particular powers so limited, e.g., section 41 (e) and (k). The controlling and regulating is in respect of persons engaged in activities "within the Province," in that the Board is empowered to classify and to license "persons engaged in the production, supplying, processing, distribution, or sale of milk within the Province" section 41 (a) and (b), and to prohibit any person from engaging in those activities "within the Province" unless licensed, section 41 (d). Hence the powers conferred by the Statute to regulate and control the marketing of milk should be understood to relate to transactions completed within the Province, for milk situate within the Province between persons within the Province.

The Board is empowered to set up standards of milk, section 41 (e), and to prohibit the marketing of milk below standard, section 41 (g), and while those powers are not expressly stated to be restricted to the legislative competence of the Province, that is implied from the opening words of section 41, which limit the powers conferred "so far as the legislative authority of the Province extends," and there is nothing to indicate an intention of disregarding that limitation.

Order No. 5 enacted by the Board is equally within the legislative competence of the Province. The Order is expressly limited "to milk qualifying for the fluid market produced or marketed or offered for market in an area of production referred to in the Act" (Order, section 1), which area, as defined by Statute, section 40, is wholly within the Province. Hence the Order relates only to property situate within the Province. Also that qualifying milk which has the minimum accounting value as fixed by the Milk Board (Order, sections 16 to 18) is restricted to that milk which (1) complies with Order, section 1, by being "produced or marketed or offered for market in an area of production" and hence within the Province, and (2) is utilized by a vendor (dealer) for sale in fresh fluid form—in any part of the Province, or being surplus to the vendor's fluid requirements is "utilized in the Province" for manufacture (Class 2) or other purpose (Class 3) (Order, section 15). It would follow that the Statute and Order should be construed as applying only to particular businesses carried on within the Province and to transactions completed within the Province, and hence as coming within the legislative competence of the Province as declared in Shannon v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board, supra. There the Judicial Committee held to be valid a Statute of this Province authorizing the Lieutenant-Governor in Council to set up a marketing board with power to regulate the marketing of natural products and Lord Atkin, in that judgment, said at page 718:—

It is sufficient to say . . . that it is apparent that the legislation in question is confined to regulating transactions that take place wholly within the Province, and are therefore within the sovereign powers granted to the Legislature in that respect by S. 92 of the British North America Act. . . .

But the Act is clearly confined to dealings with such products as are situate within the Province.

The pith and substance of this Act is that it is an Act to regulate particular businesses entirely within the Province, and is therefore intra vires of the Province.

Moreover, there is nothing in the Statute or in Order No. 5 which precludes a producer from selling his qualifying milk outside the market established by the Milk Board and inside or outside the Province, and likewise there is nothing in the Statute or Order which precludes a vendor, having bought qualifying milk, from reselling that milk outside the market established by the Board and inside or outside the Province. The fact is that the market established by the Milk Board with its premium for qualifying milk is merely a privilege which is offered proportionately to producers and to vendors but which any of them may refuse. To this Statute and Order appears applicable the statements in the Reference re the Farm Products Marketing Act (1957) S.C.R. 198, by Rand, J., at page 210:—

A producer is entitled to dispose of his products beyond the Province without reference to a provincial marketing agency or price, shipping or other trade regulation; and an outside purchaser is entitled with equal freedom to purchase and export.

The reaches of trade may extend to aspects of manufacture. In Attorney-General for Ontario v. Attorney-General for the Dominion et al, supra, the Judicial Committee dealt with the question whether the Province could prohibit the manufacture within the Province of intoxicating liquor, to which the answer was given that, in the absence of conflicting legislation of Parliament there would be jurisdiction to that effect if it were shown that the manufacture was carried on under circumstances and conditions as to make its prohibition a merely local matter in the Province.

It would follow that under the circumstances recited in the preamble to the Statute, and in that estimable report of Mr. Justice Clyde, any restriction or prohibition in the Statute or Order should be deemed to be a merely local matter, directed to the health of the inhabitants of the Province, or under Order No. 5, to the health of the inhabitants within an area of production in the Province.

It is contended that Statute and Order are invalid as imposing an indirect tax. Section 41 of the Statute and also Order 5 provide for a rateable distribution of the accounting values amongst the producers in proportion to their respective deliveries of qualifying milk within the month. In substance the Statute and Order create a pool among the producers supplying qualifying milk to the local market and such a pool is intra vires of the Province, Reference re Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, per Rand, J., at page 214, Locke, J., at page 231. However, it is contended that the rateable distribution of the market among producers is carried out by means of an indirect tax which is imposed upon the vendors, or alternatively upon the producers and by reason of such indirect tax, the Statute and Order are ultra vires of the Province. That requires a review of the method by which the Milk Board operates.

The Milk Board for each month in advance fixes the accounting value of the qualifying milk delivered by a producer to a vendor during the coming month. That accounting value is for each of three classes, (1) for qualifying milk used by a vendor for sale in fresh fluid form in any part of the Province, (2) for surplus qualifying milk used in the Province for manufacturing, and (3) for surplus qualifying milk used in the Province for other purposes, as set out in Order 5, section 15. The accounting value of the surplus milk (Classes 2 and 3) is based on "current market yields" (Statute, section 41 (i)) because it must be sold at a price which would permit it to be used in the manufacturing of products which could be sold competitively on the open market. After the end of each month the Milk Board computes the total quantity of qualifying milk delivered during that month and the total amount of the accounting values therefor, whether used in the fluid market or otherwise, and that total amount of the qualifying milk delivered in that month divided into the total accounting values therefor determines the sum which is taken as the "producer's price," that is the price to be paid by each vendor to his producers for the fluid milk delivered by them during that month.

Mr. Justice Clyde, in his report (pp. 140, 141) explains this process by assuming $5 for each hundredweight to be the accounting value for the milk used for sale on the fluid market and $3 for the surplus milk, that is the qualifying milk sold for manufacturing or other purposes, and by dividing the quantity assumed delivered into the total accounting values there was obtained $4.20 as the average accounting value for each hundredweight; that average accounting value there taken at $4.20 is the producer's price. Each vendor (dealer) would know in advance that for each hundredweight sold by him for use on the fluid market he must account at the rate of $5 and for the surplus, that is milk sold by him for manufacturing or other purposes, he must account at the rate of $3; those are his costs. Each vendor would, on those assumed facts, pay off his producers at the producer's price of $4.20; that is the price which each producer would receive for his qualifying milk for that month. It must follow that the total of the accounting values from all the vendors will equal the total payments of the producer's price made by all the vendors.

It is contended, however, that there is an indirect tax for the reason that the liability of a vendor to pay the accounting value of the milk sold by him may exceed the amount payable to his producers computed at the producer's price; that excess the vendor must pay to the Milk Board; therefore, it is contended that the obligation to pay that excess is an indirect tax. That contention is not well founded.

Every vendor must come within two possible positions:—

- (1) A vendor may have sold all his milk on the fluid market, and, therefore, on the accounting values taken by way of illustration his accounting value would be $5 per hundredweight, and that vendor, by paying his producers at the producer's price of $4.20 per hundredweight, would have in hand a balance of $0.80 per hundredweight. That balance in hand the vendor would pay to the Milk Board. The Board would pass that payment on to other vendors who, having undersold on the fluid market, would need that additional sum to permit their paying the producer's price.
- (2) On the other hand, a vendor may have sold all his qualifying milk on the manufacturing market, and, therefore, his accounting value would be $3 per hundredweight and his paying the producer's price of $4.20 would overpay that vendor's accounting value and would leave him with a deficiency of $1.20 per hundredweight, that is the excess of the producer's price over that vendor's accounting value. That vendor's deficiency is paid to him by the Milk Board out of the moneys received from other vendors who have oversold their producer's share of the fluid market.

In both events the accounting value fixes the cost of the milk to the vendors. The accounting value is merely the cost price to the vendor of the qualifying milk purchased by him. As it is the cost price to the vendor of the milk purchased by him it is not a tax; it is quite distinguishable from that compulsory taking which denotes a tax, as was stated in Lower Mainland Dairy Products Committee v. Crystal Dairy Ltd. (1933) A.C. 168 at pages 174 and 175. Further, if those vendors who oversell the fluid-milk market and pay to the Board the amount that their accounting value exceeds the average price are thereby deemed to be paying a tax, then the cost price to such vendors must be the accounting value less the tax payment, for they pay nothing beyond the accounting value. That would mean there are two cost prices; namely, the accounting value less the alleged tax for those vendors who oversell the fluid milk market, and, secondly, the accounting value for other vendors. The Statute and Order do not permit that construction; under the Statute and Order the accounting value is the cost for every vendor.

As to the producer, there is no tax. The producer knows that under the Statute and Order he has the right to receive the producer's price to be computed after the end of the month at the average accounting value of all the qualifying milk supplied to the vendors during that month. The producer will not know the exact amount due him by his vendor until after the average accounting value will have been computed by the Milk Board after the end of the month, but in any event the producer will know in advance the method by which the producer's price will be computed and his contract with the vendor by force of the Statute and Order must be deemed to contain a term fixing the price at the producer's price to be computed by that method. That contract determines what the producer has the right to receive. Hence, assuming that all milk delivered by a producer has been sold on the fluid market, then the vendor must account therefor at the accounting value, say, $5 per hundredweight, but the producer will receive the producer's price here assumed to be $4.20. The difference of $0.80 per hundredweight is not taken from that producer as he, at no time, had the right to receive it. The producer sold to his vendor at the producer's price, assumed at $4.20, and to receive that amount is the producer's right. Hence there has been nothing taken from the producer even in the event that all the milk delivered by him has been resold by his vendor upon the fluid market, and as there has been nothing taken from the producer there has been no compulsory levy, which is the essential of a tax.

For those reasons the case at Bar is distinguishable from those cases in which there has been held to be tax. In Lower Mainland Dairy Products Committee v. Crystal Dairy Ltd., supra, a portion of the returns to which the farmer was entitled under his contract of sale was compulsorily taken in order to effect the adjustment with other like producers and that was held to be an indirect tax and ultra vires of the Province. Lord Thankerton, at page 174, said:—

... the substantive provision of the Act of 1929 is to transfer compulsorily a portion of the returns obtained by the traders in the fluid milk market to the traders in the manufactured products market; . . .

And at page 177:—

The tax here is imposed on the proceeds of particular transactions. Their Lordships are of opinion that both the levies here are indirect taxes.

In Lower Mainland etc. Committee v. Turner's Dairy Ltd. (1941) S.C.R. 573, the order enacted by a Provincial Board was held invalid as imposing an indirect tax; there Duff, C.J., at page 576, said:—

There was sufficient evidence to support the view that the purpose and effect of the impugned orders was to enable the Board . . . to equalize prices as between producers . . . and to accomplish this by abstracting from the proceeds of the sales of the former class in the fluid milk market a sufficient part of the returns from the sale of their milk to enable the Board, by handing that part over to the other producers, to bring the several rates of return for the two classes into a state of equality.

In the case at Bar there has been no such taking from the producer of any returns to which he had the right. There has been no taking from a vendor, as his cost price of milk as contemplated by him at the time of his purchase has not been increased and therefore there has been no levy imposed.

It is further contended that the licence fees authorized by section 41 (b) of the Statute and preamble, and also the fee of $1 under sections 10 and 12 of the Order, were indirect taxes and ultra vires of the Province and of the Milk Board. On the other hand, it is contended that these are charges for services and therefore not taxes. The Milk Board has the expense of setting up the market, of determining what producers are qualified, of the licensing of producers and vendors, and of seeing that those accounts are kept which are incidental to the operation of the pool. There is nothing to indicate that the licence fees do exceed or were intended to exceed a reasonable charge for these services. A charge for the services rendered cannot be a tax: A.G. for Canada v. The Registrar of Titles, B.C.C.A. (1934) 3 W.W.R. 165, Martin, J.A., at page 169, McPhillips, J.A., at page 172, Macdonald, J.A., at page 176; Reference re Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, the Chief Justice at page 207, Rand, J., at page 219, Locke, J., at page 235, Fauteux, J., at pages 253 and 261. In Shannon v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board, supra, Lord Atkin, at page 721, said:—

If regulation of trade within the Province has to be held valid, the ordinary method of regulating trade, i.e., by a system of licences must also be admissible. A licence itself merely involves a permission to trade subject to compliance with specified conditions. A licence fee, though usual, does not appear to be essential. But, if licences are granted, it appears to be no objection that fees should be charged in order either to defray the costs of administering the local regulation or to increase the general funds of the Province, or for both purposes. The object would appear to be in such a case to raise a revenue for either local or Provincial purposes.

It cannot, as their Lordships think, be an objection to a licence plus a fee that it is directed both to the regulation of trade and to the provision of revenue.

In the circumstances of this case it is not necessary to determine what limits are placed upon the Legislature in imposing licence fees. Section 41 (b) is not to be held ultra vires merely because the licence fee may be in varying amounts: Reference re Farm Products Marketing

Act, supra, Rand, J., at page 218, Locke, J., at page 236, Fauteux, J., at page 260. In the case at Bar the licence fees are not used to equalize the returns, hence that difficulty which arose in the Reference re Farm Products Marketing Act, supra, does not here arise.

The answers to the questions submitted are: To question one, the "Milk Industry Act" is intra vires of the Legislative Assembly; to question two, Order 5 is intra vires of the Milk Board.

F. A. SHEPPARD, J.A.

Vancouver, B.C., February 11th, 1959.

Reasons for Judgment of the Honourable Mr. Justice Coady

This is a reference under the "Constitutional Questions Determination Act" for the opinion of the Court upon the following questions:—

1. Is the "Milk Industry Act," chapter 28 of the Statutes of British Columbia, 1956, in its pith and substance a Statute to regulate the production, distribution, and marketing of milk and manufactured milk products within British Columbia and within the competence of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia to enact, or is it in its pith and substance a taxing Statute to impose indirect taxation and ultra vires of the Legislative Assembly, and if it is ultra vires, in what particular or particulars and to what extent?
2. Is Order 5 of the Milk Board under the said Act, dated the 18th day of January, 1957, intra vires of the said Milk Board, and if not, in what particular or particulars and to what extent?

A brief review of the background will help to disclose what the Legislature had in mind in enacting the Statute and will assist in determining the pith and substance of the legislation.

On September 3rd, 1954, a Royal Commission under the "Public Inquiries Act" of the Province of British Columbia was issued to Mr. Justice Clyne (as he then was) as sole Commissioner to inquire whether the existing Orders of the Milk Board as to the prices of milk set by the Board were being paid, and if not the reason for the violation of the Board's Orders, and generally to inquire into any other matters relating to the production, marketing, and distribution of milk in the Province that, in his opinion, it was in the public interest to inquire into. By Order in Council of the same date and as supplemental to the said Commission, the Commissioner was authorized to make such recommendations as he might think proper.

The Commissioner, pursuant to the commission directed to him and the Order in Council, after an exhaustive inquiry which included the taking of a great volume of evidence, much of it from experts in the field, made a most comprehensive and extremely able and valuable report relating to the dairy industry in the Province and made recommendations with respect thereto, including recommendations relating to legislation which, in his opinion, ought to be enacted in an attempt to remedy the conditions disclosed.

The Commissioner found that the Orders of the Board were not being obeyed and assigned the reasons therefor. He found that the industry was in a most unsatisfactory condition and gave particulars thereof. He assigned reasons for the chaotic conditions that he found prevailing, among which must be noted the feeling of discontent and resentment among the farmers arising from the inequality of receipts obtained by them from milk sold owing to the inequitable division of the fluid market. In addition to many other recommendations made by him, he recommended legislation which would, in his view, help to remedy the existing evils and avoid the defects of prior legislation dealing with the milk industry, which legislation or orders made thereunder had been held to be ultra vires. In making these latter recommendations, which he discusses in some detail, he was not unaware of the unsuccessful legislative endeavours in the past by which it was sought to relieve the economic plight of the producers in the dairy industry and at the same time to protect the interests of the public. The Commissioner made it abundantly clear that the situation was one of some urgency and pointed out the necessity for prompt remedial legislation.

The recommendations made by the Commissioner were implemented by the Legislature by the enactment of the present "Milk Industry Act," on the validity of which, and Order 5 made thereunder, this Court is now asked for an opinion. The preamble to the Act furnishes in some detail the background of the present legislation and the purpose, object, and intent of the Legislature. I refer only to a part of this preamble, reading as follows:—

And whereas accordingly the Government, on the third day of September, 1954, appointed the Honourable Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne as a sole Commissioner to inquire into the failure of primary producers to receive prices fixed by the Milk Board of British Columbia existing under the "Public Utilities Act" of British Columbia for whole milk supplied for whole-milk requirements and into the failure of certain dealers, co-operatives, associations, or agencies to comply with orders of the said Milk Board, and to inquire into other matters in relation to the production, marketing, and distribution of whole milk:

And whereas the said Commissioner made a searching and thorough investigation, from the time of his said appointment until the date of his said report, into all matters pertaining to the production, sale, delivery, and marketing of milk from the said areas:

And whereas, on the seventeenth day of October, 1955, the said Commissioner made his report, containing findings and recommendations in connection with the said matters, to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor in Council:

And whereas the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia has considered the contents of the said report and is of the opinion:—

- (a) That it is necessary to consolidate the present legislation dealing with milk and to enact further measures in relation thereto to safeguard the public health;
- (b) That all milk for human consumption in fluid form must, in respect of qualities of safety and cleanliness, meet a common standard;
- (c) That at the present time the total volume of such milk available for the fluid market greatly exceeds the demand therefor, but that in the foreseeable future, owing to increases in population and the limited area in which milk can be produced, the demand for such fluid milk may exceed the possible supply thereof;
- (d) That the price of milk of such standard for consumption on the fluid market in British Columbia is affected only by local supply and demand, whereas the price for milk for manufacturing purposes is fixed by world market conditions in respect of the manufactured product;
- (e) That, in order to ensure to the consuming public of British Columbia a continuity of supply of safe and clean fresh fluid milk meeting such standard, it is necessary that a premium be offered to producers thereof, but because of market conditions aforesaid the price which all producers shall receive for the total volume of such milk must be conditioned by the price paid for the surplus supply which is sold at the world market price, resulting in a return to the producers of a blended price of all milk produced by them:

- (f) That in this Province the history of production and distribution of milk for consumption in fluid form shows an inequality in bargaining strength as to price between producers and distributors, and that the fixing of prices to be paid to producers for such milk is therefore necessary;
- (g) That, for the foregoing reasons and for other reasons referred to in the said report, it is essential that prices which the producer shall receive for all milk which he has produced under conditions qualifying it for the fluid market be fixed at a level which will ensure an adequate but not an excessive supply of milk qualified for the fluid market.

Part I of the Act contains the provisions relating to the production of milk which are directed in the main to ensure a good, clean, safe supply of milk for the public. Part II relates to the pasteurization, processing, and manufacturing of dairy products. Part III relates to the provisions for marketing.

The attack on the legislation is confined to Part III of the Statute. The other provisions of the Statute, as counsel opposing the legislation have explained, are desirable provisions and are not questioned.

It seems clear the Statute is enacted to provide for the regulation of a local industry and is designed to provide for stability in the industry and equality of treatment among producers as one class and the vendors or distributors as another class, and to provide for the maintenance of a supply of good, clean, fresh milk for the public use.

The law seems to be well settled that the regulation of a local industry within the Province is within the exclusive legislative competence of the Provincial Legislature: Shannon et al. v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board and The Natural Products Marketing (B.C.) Act, 1936 (1938) A.C. 708; Attorney-General for British Columbia v. Attorney-General for Canada (1937) A.C. 377; Home Oil Distributors Ltd. v. A.G. of British Columbia (1940) S.C.R. 444. That, however, does not determine the validity of the legislation, for it may be found upon investigation that the means adopted may transcend the legislative jurisdiction of the Province and infringe upon the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament. While it is not to be presumed that a Provincial Legislature intends to exceed its legislative jurisdiction, the Court may, on what it considers to be the proper construction to be given to the enactment, determine that the Legislature has gone beyond its authority.

The Act is designed to ensure that all producers of an equal standard quality of milk shall be paid a standard or uniform price for the product irrespective of whether the milk is sold in the fluid market or the manufacturing market. In effect it provides for market control and equalization among producers no matter in what market their product is sold. If the prices in both markets were the same, no regulation with respect to marketing would perhaps be necessary. It is because the fluid-market price is higher than the manufacturing-market price that regulation becomes necessary in order that all producers of milk of a qualifying standard shall receive an equal price for the equal product sold. It is to accomplish this that the plan of market control is provided to secure apportionment of the market and equalization of returns. It is equalization in the sense that every producer of "qualifying milk" as defined in the Act receives an equal price for an equal product. That is the sense in which equalization is used in the report of the Commissioner. That is the sense in which equalization is intended in the Statute.

With these general observations as to the purpose of and the necessity for the legislation, the first question to be considered is the "pith and substance" of the Statute. The cases relating to the "pith and substance" of a Statute are numerous. I refer only to the following: Reference re The Employment and Social Insurance Act (1936) S.C.R. 427; A.G. for Canada v. A.G. for Ontario (1937) A.C. 355; Bank of Toronto v. Lambe (1887) 12 A.C. 575; Gallagher v. Lynn (1937) A.C. 863; Shannon v. Lower Mainland Dairy Products (1938) A.C. 708; Reference re Farm Products Marketing Act (1957) S.C.R. 198. Extracts from a number of the cases have been cited by my brother Sidney Smith, whose reasons for judgment I have had the advantage of reading, and I do not therefore propose to enlarge upon these.

It should be observed in passing, however, that if an Act in its pith and substance is within the legislative competence of the Provincial Legislature, the Act is not to be held invalid merely because it incidentally affects matters which are outside the authorized field: Gallagher v. Lynn, supra; the Shannon case; Bank of Toronto v. Lambe (1887) 12 A.C. 575; A.G. for Manitoba v. Manitoba Licence Holders' Association (1902) A.C. 73.

The "pith and substance" of a Statute is to be determined, as indicated in the cases above cited and others, by consideration of a number of circumstances or factors. These various factors may be summarized as follows:—

- (1) Is the Act one which relates to the regulation of a local industry?
- (2) What was the purpose and intent of the Legislature?
- (3) What were the evils sought to be remedied by the legislation?
- (4) Are the means adopted to secure this end within the legislative competence of the Legislature?
- (5) What is the true nature and character of the Act?

Then, too, consideration must be given to the preamble of the Act as providing the key to the legislation, likewise must be considered the legislative history and surrounding circumstances, the existing state of the law and the purpose of the legislation and the object to be accomplished. The report of the Commissioner and the circumstances that gave rise to the inquiry made by him are matters of particular consideration in the present case when considering the pith and substance of the Statute. It should be observed, too, that the legislation must be considered in its entirety, and, furthermore, that there is a presumption in favour of validity. Measured by these considerations and tests it appears to me, in answer to the first question, that the Act in its pith and substance is not a taxing Statute but a Statute to regulate the production, distribution, and marketing of milk and manufactured milk products within British Columbia and within the competence of the Legislative Assembly.

The second question involves the validity of Order 5 of the Board. It was agreed by counsel that the validity of the Order is for the present to be restricted to the consideration of whether or not it involves indirect taxation.

While the Act under Part III provides generally for controlling and regulating the marketing of milk, it does not provide in any detail the machinery by which this is to be effectuated. That is left largely to the Board, to which power is granted by section 41 to make orders in relation thereto.

Section 41 authorizes the Board to make orders for carrying out the provisions of the Act. The powers to be thus exercised by the Board are necessarily very wide. Those most relied upon as forming the basis of Order 5 are contained in section 41, subsections (h) to (q). These subsections may be summarized as authorizing the fixing of minimum values at which vendors shall account to producers; fixing the blended price which shall be paid to all producers, taking into account the quantity of milk sold in the fluid and manufacturing market; apportioning the quantity of milk sold in the fluid market among the producers; ordering that the proceeds of all milk qualifying for the fluid market in each area of production and sold in both markets to be pro-rated among all producers so that each producer shall receive his proportionate share of the total proceeds; establishing and adopting a formula for the purpose of fixing of prices in each area of production; directing accounts to be furnished by vendors to producers and the information to be disclosed in the said accounts; designating from time to time the vendor to whom or through whom a producer shall market his milk; and requiring every vendor to accept milk from such producers or other vendors as the Board may determine.

Section 24 of Order 5 provides as follows:—

- (a) Each producer shall market his qualifying milk in each class in the same proportion that the total sales by all vendors of qualifying milk in each class bears to the total volume of qualifying milk received by them from all producers in each area of production. For the purpose of avoiding the unnecessary cost to vendors, producers, or consumers resulting from the movement of qualifying milk pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this section, and in lieu of requiring vendors to transfer to other vendors such quantity of qualifying milk in any class received by them from their producers as will ensure that each vendor shall market the same proportion of the volume of each class of qualifying milk, the producer price resulting from the computations mentioned in sections 19, 20, 22, 23, and 25 hereof is fixed as one price for qualifying milk so that each vendor will pay to each producer the same price for qualifying milk:

As in complying with the order for payment of the said price some vendors may be required to pay to producers more and other vendors may be required to pay to producers less than the total value of the volume of qualifying milk received by them as computed in section 18 hereof:—

- (i) On or before the fifteenth day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, every vendor shall pay to the Board the amount by which the value of milk received by him as calculated under section 18 hereof is greater than the amount which he must pay to producers in complying with sections 19, 20, 22, 23, and 25 hereof:

- (ii) On or before the seventeenth day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, the Board shall pay to every vendor the amount by which the value of milk received by him as calculated under section 18 hereof is less than the amount which he must pay to producers in complying with sections 19, 20, 22, 23, and 25 hereof.

In determining whether or not any element of indirect taxation is involved under the scheme or plan set out in Order 5, some further and more detailed reference must be made to the said plan or scheme adopted by the Board.

In fixing the producer price a premium or bonus is attached to the value assigned by the Board to milk for the fluid market. Likewise, a value or price is assigned by the Board to milk for the manufacturing market. The producer's price is then determined from these two values and will depend on the percentage of milk sold in each market. The value assigned to milk for the fluid market is determined by a plan referred to in the Commissioner's report and in the Act as "formula pricing." This formula value is arrived at more or less arbitrarily. There are many factors to be considered in arriving at this value. These need not be examined as the plan of "formula pricing" is not under attack. It should be added that this premium or bonus included in the formula value assigned to milk for the fluid market is designed to encourage farmers, who are assured of a uniform price and equalization in the market, to incur the expense required to provide the facilities which the Board by regulation requires in order to ensure a consistent supply of "qualifying milk" for the public use.

So far as the producer is concerned, I can find no element of taxation involved under Order 5. There is no levy imposed on him and there is nothing taken from him that is his or to which he is entitled.

The next step is to consider whether there is any element of indirect tax involved in Order 5 as affecting the vendors of milk. The attack on Order 5, it should be observed, was made largely on behalf of the vendors and vendor-producers. The submission is that in the plan outlined in Order 5, which requires vendors to make payments or contributions to equalize returns as among vendors, is indirect taxation.

By the Act and by the Order, the qualifying milk of all producers is in effect pooled, though that term is not used in the Act or in the Order. While the vendor and producer make their own contract for the milk supplied, the price which the vendor must pay to the producer is fixed by the Board. This price does not depend on the market in which the vendor sells the milk. When the return is made to the Board by each vendor, which must be done on or before the 8th day of each month, showing the total sales made by him in each market during the preceding month, the producer price is then determined. The amount which the producers as a class or group are entitled to receive for milk sold by the vendors is the total amount calculated on the formula price fixed by the Board covering sales in the fluid market and the price fixed for sales in the manufacturing market. The producer price is then found by dividing the total value of all milk sold by the vendors in both markets, calculated on the values fixed by the Board, and dividing this total by the volume of milk sold measured in hundredweights. It may be found on the returns made by the vendors that a vendor has sold a greater or less percentage in the fluid market than the percentage of the fluid market bears to the total sales. The consequence is that one vendor may have a surplus on hand after paying the producer price to his producer and another vendor may show a deficit. The vendor who has oversold his percentage in the fluid market will show a surplus, and the vendor who has undersold his percentage in the fluid market will show a deficit.

The vendor who has sold too high a percentage of milk in the fluid market must then adjust the account with those who sold too low a percentage in that market. If all distributors sold the same percentage of milk in the fluid and manufacturing markets, there would be no need for any adjustment of accounts. The Board has power under the Statute to control and allocate the market as between vendors (section 41, subsection (q)). The vendors who confine their sales largely to the fluid market could be required under the Statute to take such additional milk from other producers or other vendors as the Board may determine, which milk they obviously would have to sell in the manufacturing market, thus reducing their percentage of sales in the fluid market. To require the vendor to take additional milk in order to equalize his sales with other vendors between the fluid and the manufacturing market would mean the transportation of milk from, in some cases, considerable distances, which would involve the added cost of transportation. Instead of adopting that cumbersome method of equalizing returns between vendors so that each sold only his proper percentage in each market, a system of accounting or book-keeping is employed to work out the equalization. In this balancing of accounts, section 24 (b) (i) of Order 5 provides that "every vendor must pay to the Board the amount by which the value of milk received by him as calculated under section 18 hereof is greater than the amount he must pay to the producers." Then in turn as to this amount, whatever it may be, section 24 (ii) provides that "the Board shall pay to every vendor the amount by which the value of milk received by him as calculated under section 18 hereof is less than the amount which he must pay to producers."

If it were possible to estimate in advance the total production of milk in a given area and the total percentage required to satisfy the needs of the fluid market, it would be possible for the Board to fix the percentage of milk to be sold by each vendor in the fluid market and in the manufacturing market. If this could be done in advance, there would be no necessity to make any adjustment between vendors such as is required at the present time since each vendor would have made the same percentage of sales in each market. The Board is the authority under the Act to apportion or allot the market percentages as among vendors. No tax is imposed on and no injustice is then done to the vendor who sells more than he is by law entitled to sell in the fluid market and consequently finds himself in the position that he must make this payment to the Board to adjust the deficiencies which are shown in the accounts of the vendors who sell less than their percentage in the fluid market.

The control of the market which the Board is entitled to exercise is intended to prevent any vendor from enjoying more than his proportionate share of the fluid market. This control can be exercised by requiring the vendor to handle additional milk, thus leaving him in the position of having no surplus after paying his producer the producer price fixed by the Board. Or it may be done by not interfering with his supply of milk, and this may result in his selling more than his percentage in the fluid market, and if he does, then calling on him to pay over the surplus in order to equalize returns with other vendors. There is no element of tax involved in whichever procedure is followed.

This balancing of accounts between vendors is an essential part of the system of equalization among producers and is a condition attached to the licensing of the vendors who are authorized to make distribution of what is in effect a pooled product. This in no way affects the price at which the vendor may sell in the fluid market. That is subject to open competition between vendors. When a vendor is thus called upon for payment, the amount he is required to contribute is not something which belongs to him or to which he is entitled but represents an amount that is owing by him to the Board arising from the sale by him of a higher percentage in the fluid market than that to which he is by law entitled and payment of which must be made by him to equalize returns with other vendors. It is not a levy in the nature of a tax. It is not, in my view, something that will or can enter into or have a tendency to enter into and affect the price which the vendor will seek to obtain for his commodity.

But it is contended most strongly that this equalization and adjustment between vendors contains all the elements of indirect taxation found to exist in the prior legislation which was held ultra vires in Lower Mainland Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Committee v. Crystal Dairy Ltd. (1933) A.C. 168, Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board et al. v. Turner's Dairy Limited et al. (1941) S.C.R. 573, and Lawson v. Interior Tree Fruit and Vegetable Committee of Direction (1931) S.C.R. 357. These cases, it seems to me, are distinguishable. In the Crystal Dairy case the legislation attacked was legislation that was designed to bring about equalization by forcing the farmers or producers who sold their milk on the fluid market to make returns to the Board showing the amount of their sales and to pay to the Board a levy upon their total sales in a sum sufficient to compensate other farmers who sold in the manufacturing market at a lower price, and thus equalize the returns between the producers selling in the fluid market and those selling in the manufacturing market. This was held to be indirect taxation inasmuch as it was taking from one group moneys which they had already received and handing these over to another group. In the Turner case it was the orders of the Board made under the "Natural Products Marketing Act" that were involved. This Act itself had been declared intra vires of the Province in the Shannon case. The Board there by order required vendors to make payment to the Board of all proceeds from the sale of milk, and then, after deducting certain expenses, paid the proceeds to the producers so that each producer received the same price no matter in what market his milk was sold. The result was that the producer whose milk was sold in the fluid market was required to pay a part of the money to which he was entitled, and which was withheld from him by the Board, to those whose product was sold in the manufacturing market. It was held that this was a sham or colourable device designed to avoid the result of the Crystal Dairy case and was ultra vires of the Board as involving indirect taxation. The legislation in the Lawson case was held ultra vires, not as being indirect taxation, but as being an interference with trade and commerce, an interference with the exclusive jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament. Duff, J. (as he then was), in that case expressed the view that the system of licensing in effect was indirect taxation and that the legislation was ultra vires for that additional reason, but the observations of that learned Judge in that case must be read with what was said by the Privy Council in the Shannon case. The legislation under review in the Crystal Dairy case and the Orders under review in the Turner case were not declared ultra vires for the reason that they were designed to provide for equalization among producers. It was the means adopted to bring about equalization that constituted indirect taxation and rendered the legislation ultra vires.

Here the scheme or plan devised to provide for market control and equalization among vendors bears no similarity to the schemes or plans that were found to be ultra vires in the Crystal Dairy and Turner cases.

Since strong opposition is advanced by counsel on behalf of the producer-vendor against this legislation and Order 5 of the Board, some reference to the position of that group must be made.

The producer-vendor is the producer who distributes only the milk which he himself produces. This may be done by him carrying on business as vendor in his own name or in the name of a company which he controls. His sales are for the most part, if not exclusively, in the more profitable fluid market. This legislation, involving as it does market control and equalization of returns to the producer, may appear to him unjust and unfair. But we are not concerned with that aspect of the matter, for, as said by Davis, J., in Home Oil Distributors Ltd. v. A.G. for B.C., supra, "... we are not concerned with whether the legislation appears to us to be commercially fair and reasonable or not. The sole question is whether the Provincial Legislature had authority to enact such legislation."

The producer-vendor, it seems to me, is, as a producer, in the same position as the producer who sells his product to an independent vendor. He is likewise as a vendor in the same position as the vendor who is not a producer. As a producer he is entitled to the same producer price fixed by the Board as other producers, and as a vendor he is subject to the same conditions as other vendors. If he sells more than his percentage in the fluid market, he is subject to the adjustment of accounts as other vendors who do likewise. He occupies no favoured position. He is licensed by the Board in both capacities, as a producer and as a vendor. There is no element of tax involved. He could be required by the Board as a vendor to accept milk from other districts, which he would of necessity have to sell in the manufacturing market, thus reducing his percentage of sales in the fluid market.

Finally, I would refer to the decision of the Supreme Court of Canada in Reference re Farm Products Marketing Act, supra. Section 3 (1) (l) of that Act, there under consideration, provides in effect a scheme or plan of marketing that involves essentially the same elements found in the present Act relating to market control and equalization of returns. That section was held intra vires.

I am of the opinion, therefore, that Order 5 is intra vires as involving no element of indirect tax, and I would answer the second question accordingly. The question whether the Order may possibly infringe upon the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament in relation to trade and commerce has been reserved for further argument if that becomes necessary.

J. M. COADY, J.A.

Vancouver, B.C., February 11th, 1959.

Reasons for Judgment of the Honourable Mr. Justice Sidney Smith

We are directed by Order in Council to determine certain questions concerning the constitutional validity of the "Milk Industry Act" of this Province (1956, chapter 28) and of General Order No. 5 of the Milk Board passed under the provisions of this Act.

The said Act was enacted following upon a report by Mr. Justice Clyne (as he then was), who was appointed a Royal Commissioner on September 3rd, 1954, for the purpose of inquiring into all matters concerning the production, distributing, and marketing of milk in the Province. I should say at once, with deference, that his report, dated October 17th, 1955, is an exhaustive study of the utmost value and will take its leading place amongst the historic documents on milk production in British Columbia.

The Commissioner found the milk industry in a chaotic state, almost in a breakdown state, for reasons which need not be particularized here. He set before him the objective of ensuring to the public of British Columbia a constant supply of clean, fresh, safe milk and of ensuring to the farmer-producer a fixed price upon the sale of his milk—a price that would enable him to produce the milk under the most sanitary conditions and at the same time provide a reasonable income for his labour. He found that the production of such standard milk under such conditions throughout the year would involve extra costs to the farmer and would therefore justify a premium (or, in other words, compensation) price for his milk. To this end he recommended the production of one grade of milk which qualified for the fluid market, one fixed price for such milk, but no fixing of price to the consumer. In other words, the middleman, that is the dairyman to whom the farmer sells his milk, could in his turn sell the milk at whatever price he could obtain, whether wholesale (that is, to corporations, hotels, stores, etc.) or retail from door to door or in stores. This would provide competition amongst the dairies for customers, while leaving the farmer the security of a fixed price for his production. The Act was passed to implement these recommendations. In my opinion it has done so, though not necessarily all of them not here mentioned.

Part I of the Act sets out the necessary statutory requirements relating to the production of milk and the classification and inspection of dairy-farms. Part II deals generally with the licensing of milk testers and graders, the inspection of dairies, and other like establishments. These two Parts form the basis of the price-fixing control exercised. Part III contains the provision relating to marketing, the creation of the Milk Board, the areas of milk production, and the powers of the Board. On January 18th, 1957, the Board passed General Order No. 5, dealing with milk qualifying for the fluid market, setting out the formula for fixing the value of such milk and a system of market-wide pricing.

The express questions for our determination set out in the Order in Council are these:—

1. Is the "Milk Industry Act," chapter 28 of the Statutes of British Columbia, 1956, in its pith and substance a statute to regulate the production, distribution, and marketing of milk and manufactured milk products within British Columbia and within the competence of the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia to enact, or is it in its pith and substance a taxing statute to impose indirect taxation and ultra vires of the said Legislative Assembly, and if it is ultra vires in what particular or particulars and to what extent?
2. Is Order No. 5 of the Milk Board under the said Act, dated the 18th day of January, 1957, intra vires of the said Milk Board, and if not in what particular or particulars and to what extent?

The first inquiry must be to the pith and substance of the Act. This is to be ascertained by reference to the authorities. Notice should first be taken to the reference re the Employment and Social Insurance Act (1936), S.C.R. 427, and this excerpt from the judgment of Mr. Justice Rinfret at pages 452 to 454:—

The critical question is whether or not the statute is, in its substance, an exercise of those powers to raise money by taxation and to make laws for the disposal of the public property.

At the outset, let us remember the remark of Lord Coke (4 Inst. 330) that the preamble of a statute is "the key to open the minds of the makers of the Act and the mischiefs which they intended to remedy."

The recitals of the preamble have already been referred to. They mention the Treaty of Versailles and the promise of the signatories to endeavour to secure and maintain fair and humane conditions of labour for industrial wage earners. They indicate the desirability of discharging certain obligations to Canadian labour. They invoke the importance for the peace, order and good government of Canada to provide for a national employment service, for insurance against unemployment and for other forms of social insurance. They allege the necessity of maintaining on equitable terms interprovincial and international trade. They mention the purpose of creating a national fund, out of which benefits to unemployed persons throughout Canada will be payable, and of providing for the levy of contributions from employers and workers for the maintaining of this fund and for contribution thereto by the Dominion.

With deference, it seems to me that these recitals clearly indicate that the Parliament of Canada intended primarily to legislate with regard to employment service, to unemployment insurance, and to health matters; that it was not concerned with the public debt and property or with the raising of money by taxation; and that the provisions for levying contributions for the creation of the national fund were nothing more than provisions to enable the carrying out of the true and only purposes of the legislation. The Act is one dealing with and regulating employment service and unemployment insurance. The contributions (or the taxes, if we are to call them so) are mere incidents of the regulation.

It is hardly necessary to repeat that, when investigating whether an Act was competently passed by Parliament, the Courts must ascertain the "true nature and character" of the enactment, its "pith and substance," and the legislation must be "scrutinized in its entirety" for the purpose of determining within which of the categories of subject matters mentioned in sections 91 and 92 the legislation falls (Citizens Insurance Co. v. Parsons (1881) 7 A.C. 96; Union Colliery Company v. Bryden (1899) A.C. 580; Great West Saddlery Company v. The King (1921) 2 A.C. 91, at 117; Reciprocal Insurers case (1924) A.C. 328, at page 337; Toronto Electric Commissioners v. Snider (1925) A.C. 396, at 407).

In my humble view, the subject-matter of the Act is employment service and social insurance, not public debt and property or taxation. The object of the Act, the end sought to be accomplished by it, is a scheme for employment service and unemployment insurance; the contributions levied from the employers and employees are only incidents of the proposed scheme, and, in fact, merely means of carrying it into effect. The Act does not possess the character of a taxing statute, but it is legislation intending to do precisely what the title says: to establish an employment insurance commission, to provide for a national employment service, for insurance against unemployment, for aid to unemployed persons, or other forms of social insurance and security and for purposes related thereto.

It being well understood and, in fact, conceded that these are subject-matters falling within the legislative authority of the provinces, the Dominion Parliament may not, under pretext of the exercise of the power to deal with its property, or to raise money by taxation, indirectly accomplish the ends sought for in this legislation. If it were otherwise, the Dominion Parliament, under colour of the taxing power, would be permitted to invade almost any of the fields exclusively reserved by the Constitution to the legislatures in each province.

This was affirmed in Attorney-General for Canada v. Attorney-General for Ontario (1937) A.C. 355 and 367.

I now turn to the preamble of the Milk Act for the "key." There the recitals set out that there has been uncertainty as to whether producers of milk receive a reasonable return therefor, and there have been lacking the incentives necessary to ensure to consumers a continuity of supply of safe, clean milk in fluid form; that in consequence Mr. Justice Clyne was appointed sole Commissioner to inquire into these and into all matters pertaining to the production, sale, delivery, and marketing of milk in British Columbia; that the Legislative Assembly of British Columbia considered the contents of the Commissioner's report and was of opinion inter alia:—

- (a) That it is necessary to consolidate the present legislation dealing with milk and to enact further measures in relation thereto to safeguard the public health;
- (b) That all milk for human consumption in fluid form must, in respect of qualities of safety and cleanliness, meet a common standard;
- (c) That at the present time the total volume of such milk available for the fluid market greatly exceeds the demand therefor, but that in the foreseeable future, owing to increases in population and the limited area in which milk can be produced, the demand for such fluid milk may exceed the possible supply thereof;
- (d) That the price of milk of such standard for consumption on the fluid market in British Columbia is affected only by local supply and demand, whereas the price for milk for manufacturing purposes is fixed by world market conditions in respect of the manufactured product;
- (e) That, in order to ensure to the consuming public of British Columbia a continuity of supply of safe and clean fresh fluid milk meeting such standard, it is necessary that a premium be offered to producers thereof, but because of market conditions aforesaid the price which all producers shall receive for the total volume of such milk must be conditioned by the price paid for the surplus supply which is sold at the world market price, resulting in a return to the producers of a blended price for all milk produced by them.

And then I turn to the Commissioner's report and this paragraph:—

The continued control of a minimum price to the producer is fully justified in this area. Milk is an essential food commodity. It is necessary in the public interest that there should be at all times a steady, adequate supply of clean, fresh, safe milk to the metropolitan community. Milk, unlike most other foods, is a bulky and highly perishable product. It must be sold promptly, and the farmer has no time to bargain with the distributor. It has been shown, not only in this area but in many other parts of the continent, that the farmer is not able to bargain effectively with the distributor, even through co-operatives as strong as the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association. It is in the public interest that, in the case of an essential food commodity such as milk, the producer should receive a guaranteed minimum price in order to maintain the supply in quantity to satisfy the needs of the community and in quality to comply with proper health standards.

There are many authorities on "pith and substance," and excerpts from a few may be noted:—

The division of legislative powers Federal and Provincial cannot be separated into airtight compartments more particularly with the growing complexity of modern business relations. In Attorney-General of Manitoba v. Manitoba Licence Holders' Association (1902) A.C. 73, the Act in question (The Manitoba Liquor Act of 1900) was held valid because it was of a merely local nature although in its operation it affected Dominion revenue and incidentally business operations outside the Province. The Act interfered to some extent with the interprovincial export and import trade in liquor. To quote Lord Macnaghten at page 79:—

"... in the opinion of this tribunal matters which are 'substantially of local or of private interest' in a Province—matters which are of a local or private nature 'from a Provincial point of view,' to use expressions to be found in the judgment—are not excluded from the category of 'matters of a merely local or private nature,' because legislation dealing with them, however carefully it may be framed, may or must have an effect outside the limits of the Province, and may or must interfere with the sources of Dominion revenue and the industrial pursuits of persons licensed under Dominion statutes to carry on particular trades." (Rex v. Wong Kit (1929) 40 B.C.R. 512 at p. 524, quoting A.G. for Manitoba v. Manitoba Licence Holders' Association (1902) A.C. 73.)

So it is that I conceive it to be my right and duty to examine every word of a statute in its context, and I use context in its widest sense which I have already indicated as including not only other enacting provisions of the same statute, but its preamble, the existing state of the law, other statutes in pari materia, and the mischief which I can, by those and other legitimate means discern that the statute was intended to remedy. (A.G. v. H.R.H. Prince Augustus (1957) 1 All E.R. 49, per Viscount Simon, p. 53.)

When there is a preamble, it is generally in its recitals that the mischief to be remedied and the scope of the Act are described. It is, therefore, clearly permissible to have recourse to it as an aid to construing the enacting provisions. Per Lord Norman, ibid. page 57.

The suggestion that the power might be abused so as to amount to a practical confiscation of property does not warrant the imposition by the Courts of any limit upon the absolute power of legislation conferred. The supreme legislative power in relation to any subject-matter is always capable of abuse, but it is not to be assumed that it will be improperly used; if it is, the only remedy is an appeal to those by whom the Legislature is elected.

There is a presumption in favour of the constitutional validity of an Act passed by the Legislature, which presumption stands until the contrary is shown. (A.G. for Canada v. A.G. for Ontario (1898) A.C. 700, Lord Herschell, p. 713.)

People who are trusted with the great power of making laws for property and civil rights may well be trusted to levy taxes. There are obvious reasons for confining their power to direct taxes and licences, because the power of indirect taxation would be felt all over the Dominion. But whatever power falls within the legitimate meaning of classes 2 and 9, is, in their Lordships' judgment, what the Imperial Parliament intended to give; and to place a limit on it because the power may be used unwisely, as all powers may, would be an error, and would lead to insuperable difficulties in the construction of the Federation Act.

The appellant invokes that principle to support the conclusion that the Federation Act must be so construed as to allow no power to the provincial legislatures under section 92, which may by possibility, and if exercised in some extravagant way, interfere with the objects of the Dominion in exercising their powers under section 91. It is quite impossible to argue from the one case to the other. Their Lordships have to construe the express words of an Act of Parliament which makes an elaborate distribution of the whole field of legislative authority between two legislative bodies, and at the same time provides for the federated provinces a carefully balanced constitution, under which no one of the parts can pass laws for itself except under the control of the whole acting through the Governor-General. And the question they have to answer is whether the one body or the other has power to make a given law. If they find that on the due construction of the Act a legislative power falls within section 92, it would be quite wrong of them to deny its existence because by some possibility it may be abused, or may limit the range which otherwise would be open to the Dominion parliament. (Bank of Toronto v. Lambe (1887) 12 A.C. 575 at pp. 586 and 587.)

The legislative history and surrounding conditions are to be considered (per O'Halloran, J.A., in Turner's Dairy Ltd. v. Lower Mainland Products Board 56 B.C.R. 103 at p. 144).

From the foregoing I conclude that the "Milk Industry Act" in its pith and substance is a Statute governing market regulations and in no way imposes direct taxation. It was enacted in the public interest to ensure a constant supply of clean, safe, fresh milk.

With respect to Order 5, it should be noted that the question is the same, namely, whether the pith and substance of the Order is market regulation or whether it is a measure to provide for indirect taxation.

Under the Act and regulations there is only one grade of milk, namely, milk that qualifies for the fluid market. But owing to there being a great surplus of milk after the fluid market is satisfied, it becomes necessary to classify on the basis of utilization. This is provided for in General Order No. 5 thus:—

15. Qualifying milk shall be classified at the premises of the vendor where it is received from the producer on the basis of utilization as follows:—

- (a) Class I milk shall be all qualifying milk to be utilized by a vendor for sale in fresh fluid form to:—
  - (i) Wholesale or retail customers in any part of the Province;
  - (ii) Other vendors in any part of the Province;
- (b) Class II milk shall be all qualifying milk sold in the Province to a vendor and surplus to his fluid requirements and utilized in the Province for the manufacture of canned evaporated milk or for the manufacture of concentrated fresh fluid milk;
- (c) Class III milk shall be all qualifying milk sold in the Province to a vendor and surplus to his fluid requirements and utilized in the Province for any purpose other than those set forth in subsections (a) and (b) of this section.

The other purpose mentioned in subsection (c) comprises milk powder, ice-cream, and so forth.

Section 24 (b) of Order 5 provides for an apportionment of the market amongst all producers equitably. The Commissioner deals with this apportionment under the heading of "Methods of Equalization" at page XII in this way:

7. It is recommended that equalization be accomplished by what is termed market-wide equalization according to the method described in the report under that heading. This method has been found to work successfully in markets under control of Federal orders in the United States and also in markets which come under State control, such as New York. It involves a simple arithmetical calculation whereby the volume and value of all milk of identical quality received by all distributors from all qualified producers in the area and sold for fluid consumption during any one period is related to the volume and value of milk of the same identical quality from the same producers which, because of surplus, is sold by all distributors for the purpose of manufacture. The result is translated into terms of one producer price for all milk of the same quality, and all qualified producers receive the same price for the same quantity of milk of the same quality, thus avoiding the inequity of multiple pricing, which has long been a feature of this market.

The only criticism I have of this passage is the word "simple." I have not found it simple. But I think I understand the formula well enough to say that it has been embodied in the regulations so that each consumer obtains a fair share of the market (fluid and manufactured) under the three class headings. The principle stands for the protection of the consuming public so that they may have a continuity of supply of safe, clean milk for the purposes stated in the preamble of the Act. This is market regulation and cannot in my view be regarded as indirect taxation.

Section 24 (a) of the Order recognizes that there are two markets—one for fluid milk and the other for manufactured milk.

In order that the producers of qualifying milk, which, as appears from the Commissioner's report and from the Act and from Order 5, is one standard uniform product, may share equally the premium (or compensation) which is to be paid for this high-quality product, section 24 provides that the producers shall market that qualifying milk in each class of utilization as defined in section 15 in the provisions herein set out. This would entail the physical movement of milk. In order to obviate the necessity and expense of such physical transfer, section 24 furnishes a system of book-keeping and accounting which accomplishes this same object on a market-wide basis.

The case of the producer-vendor would seem to present a special situation, but actually his position is not different from the others. It must be remembered that the producer-vendor has a dual capacity—he is both a producer and a vendor, and by section 44 is subject to all duties and entitled to all rights imposed and conferred upon both. He has two licences—a producer's and a vendor's.

A producer-vendor whose entire milk production is sold on the fluid market is not, in his capacity as a producer, complying with the first sentence of section 24 (a) because he is not marketing his fluid milk in the proportion of the fluid class as he should. The Board could compel this producer-vendor, in his capacity as producer, to deliver to another vendor (section 41 (g) of the Act) the proportion of his production of qualifying milk which should be sold on the manufactured market. This, too, would entail the physical transfer of milk, and so the same object is accomplished in another way, namely, by the accounting method. The producer-vendor, in his capacity as vendor, is required to account to himself, in his capacity as producer, for all the qualifying milk received on the same basis as every other vendor. He has under-discharged his liability as a vendor, in the same way that Dealer B, referred to at page 141 of the Commissioner's report, has under-discharged his liability, and so to balance accounts of the total amounts due to all producers (see Commissioner's report, pp. 138 and 139), of which he in his capacity as a producer is one, he must, in his capacity as vendor, make a payment to the Board. The position may be stated in another way. This same producer-vendor, in his capacity as vendor, sells 100 per cent of his receipts of qualifying milk on the fluid market. Under section 41 (g) the Board could require him, in his capacity as vendor, to accept delivery of additional qualifying milk from other producers, and this milk he would have to sell on the manufactured market. When he had sold all the milk he received from himself in his capacity as producer, plus the additional milk he was required, in his capacity as vendor, to accept from other producers, he would account as do Dealers A and B referred to in the Commissioner's report. In either case, nothing is taken away from or given to anybody. As a producer, he is obliged to market in the proportions provided in section 24 and is entitled to be paid the one fixed price for his qualifying milk. This is what he gets—no more, no less. As a vendor he is liable to account to the supplying producers of qualifying milk for the single fixed Board price. If he handles only the milk of one producer—himself—and sells it all on the fluid market, he under-discharges his liability and so must make a payment to the Board. This payment is not a taking away from him in his capacity of vendor anything to which he is entitled. He has not handled sufficient milk. He should be handling more and selling some on the manufactured market. The position with respect to the producer-vendor shows that this is not a tax and that what is done is an apportionment of the market—the accounting by the vendor to the producer, and the producer-vendor combination being merely a matter of machinery to bring this about.

Apart from this, it must be noted that the validity of the Act cannot be made to depend on its application in particular circumstances. The broad, general tendencies of the Act must be looked to. Bank of Toronto v. Lambe (1887) 12 A.C. 575, per Lord Hobhouse, at page 582:—

The legislature cannot possibly have meant to give a power of taxation valid or invalid according to its actual results in particular cases. It must have contemplated some tangible dividing line referable to and ascertainable by the general tendencies of the tax and the common understanding of men as to those tendencies.

See also Attorney-General for British Columbia v. Canadian Pacific Railway Company (1927) A.C. 934 at 938:—

Validity in accordance with such tendencies, and not according to results in isolated or merely particular instances, must be the test.

The question of validity could not be made to impose on the Courts the duty of separating out individual instances in which the tax might operate directly from those to which the general purview of the taxation applies. An exhaustive partition would be an impracticable task. . . . The principle of construction as established is satisfied if this is practicable, and does not for its application depend on the special circumstances of individual cases.

In my opinion both the Act and Order No. 5 are intra vires. Those who argued to the contrary relied in the main on two authorities, namely, Lower Mainland Dairy Products Board v. Turner's Dairy Limited (1941) S.C.R. 573, and Lower Mainland Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Committee v. Crystal Dairy Limited (1933) A.C. 168.

These and many other authorities were considered by the learned Commissioner, and I cannot do better than adopt the language of his findings (p. 148):—

It should therefore be made clear in any subsequent Act that in the public interest it is the intention of the Legislature to fix a price to be paid to producers for milk of the same quality. There is nothing in the Turner case which suggests that such price-fixing power is unconstitutional. There is nothing in the Turner case which suggests that a Provincial legislature may not direct the pooling of the proceeds of sale of milk of the same quality by licensed producers if such pooling is in the interest of the consuming public within the Province. In the proposed plan of market-wide equalization there is nothing abstracted from the proceeds of the sales of one class and handed over to producers of another class. Again it must be pointed out that under the proposed plan there are not two classes of producers—one who is selling his milk in the fluid market and the other in the less advantageous manufacturing market. There is only one class of producer—that is to say, the producer of Grade A milk—who complies with all government regulations in the production of his milk and thus becomes entitled to the government-fixed price irrespective of whether a distributor is ultimately able to sell the milk for fluid consumption or for purpose of manufacture. The producer receives the government-fixed price for milk of Grade A quality and is not concerned with its disposition by the distributor. . . . According to the authorities, no tax element arises where the amount involved is a fee for services rendered or payment for value received. In the case of the fluid premium it has been seen that it has been earned by the farmer by continuity of supply and by the providing of facilities to produce milk of Grade A quality. In paying a price which includes the fluid premium, the consumer is receiving value by way of quality which the farmer would not be able to supply if it were not for the government-regulated price. The fluid premium is not a tax, but an element in the fixing of a price. Even if some tax element were involved, the proposed legislation is clearly distinguishable from the Statutes under consideration in the Crystal and Turner cases, for in its pith and substance it relates not to the imposition of a tax, but to the regulation of a local industry for the maintenance of a safe supply of milk to the public, according to a practice which has been found to be successful in many other parts of the continent.

As I have said, I consider both Act and Order intra vires of the Legislative Assembly on the basis of the first question submitted to us. We have reserved for further argument, if necessary, any question which may arise of a possible infringement on the jurisdiction of the Dominion Parliament over the regulation of trade and commerce.
